GUY SERAFINI AND MISS DAISY LIVINGSTONE WED.

Guy Serafini, well known young farmer of the Bethel neighborhood, and Miss Daisy Livingstone, were married in Lamar Tuesday of last week and have gone to live on a farm in Barton County a few miles northwest of Jasper.

The bride is a daughter of Charles Livingstone, now living in California but who lived for years in the Bethel neighborhood where the bride was raised. After graduating with high honors from the Carthage High School Miss Livingstone went to California and taught school there the past six years. She is a very charming and accomplished young lady.

The News joins a host of friends in wishing these estimable young people much happiness.

FINE RAIN SUNDAY NIGHT.

Sunday night brought a fine rain to this section. It was almost an inch and was the first this month. Another good rain right away would make a big difference in the corn, the gardens and the bush fruits.

ED DAVIS' TEAM RUNS AWAY WITH BINDER.

Ed Davis, residing five miles northeast of Carthage, had a narrow escape from being injured when his team ran away with the wheat binder a few days ago. While he was trying to guide and restrain the team one line broke. When the line gave way he fell backward off the seat and fortunately fell behind the binder and was not run over. The team went on and ran the machine into the fence, breaking the frame badly. The binder can be repaired, but there was not time to do this for use in this harvest, so neighbors were hired to complete the cutting of Mr. Davis' crop.—Carthage Press.

FIELD OF OATS WILL YIELD 75 BUSHELS.

What probably is the best field of oats in the districts was harvested last week by Judge P. E. Donnell of Waco. A yield of 75 bushels per acre is expected on 80 acres.

The oats were seeded early on ground fall plowed and carefully prepared. Texas oats were sown. Wheat on the Donnell farm promises to yield 20 bushels to the acre.

Judge Donnell owns an interest in a threshing machine with a number of neighbors and will start threshing next week. He is president of a farmer-owned elevator at Waco.—Joplin Globe.

THE PRICE OF LAND

Prediction of Falling Values Not Borne Out By Recent Sales.

Farm land prices have been the subject of much discussion the past year. A feeling seemed to prevail in certain quarters that the peak had been passed and that land prices were due for a fall.

The country is now well past the artificial conditions resulting from the war and values of all kinds are rapidly seeking their level. Confidence in the future, which constitutes the morale of our business system, has returned and bigger business is preparing for an era of prosperity.

Throughout this period of readjustment the farmer, though ground between the millstones of low prices for his products and high prices for his machinery and manufactured supplies, has not allowed a cent to be cut from the value of his land. And he should not have. Except in a few sections of the United States where speculators have artificially inflated the price of land, regular farm land like our own here has maintained its price and even stiffened a little. With all the problems a farmer has to meet he still knows that his land values have never been too high nor as high as the present generation probably will see them.

Several recent transactions in this section seem to bear out this statement. J. E. Hull bought of H. E. Stockdale, 40 acres of unimproved land for a cash price of $75 an acre. Another 40 acres of unimproved land at the same price was made when B. F. Johnson bought a piece of the old John Gohr place 7 miles east of Jasper. Last week F. M. Bradley bought the old Johnson homestead, six or seven miles southeast of Jasper, at $125 an acre. This place consists of 160 acres and brought approximately $20,000.

No, there is no indication of a fall in land values in such farming communities as ours.

ALL IN 21 YEARS.

Imperial, Cal., June 24, 1922.
Mr. A. F. Drake,
Jasper, Mo.

Dear Sir: Twenty-one years ago today the first water for irrigation from the Colorado River was turned into the desert now universally known as the "Imperial Valley", from which today will go almost 100 cars per day (12 hrs.) loaded with melons and other food products. Contains 60,000 people and 3 cities of more than 5,000 each. Imperial County ships one carload of food products per year for each person living there. Best regards. Very truly,
N. A. Mackey.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES.

We had 110 out to Sunday School, the smallest attendance we have had for a good while. Let us do better next Sunday.

The pastor took for his morning text Rev. 3:12 and for the evening text Josh. 1:8. Three members were added to the church.

Leader for Junior League next Sunday, Mary Lu Creta Magers; for Epworth League, A. F. Drake.

TRADES DAY NEXT SATURDAY.

Jasper's monthly sales event takes place Saturday of this week. A splendid variety of bargains have been offered by the merchants and were published on the trades-day page of the paper last week.

The list of live stock, poultry, implements, harness and other articles for the auction is being added to daily.

TEETER BROS., FURNITURE AND UNDERTAKING.

The furniture and undertaking concern belonging to the estate of the late D. W. Teeter was taken over last week by Clinton E. and Charles J. Teeter, sons of the late Mr. Teeter, the firm name now being Teeter Bros.

These young men have long had much to do with the management of the business and are familiar with its every detail. The public will be glad to know the business is to be left in their hands for they enjoy the confidence and esteem of all. Jasper is also fortunate that we are continue to have a high class establishment of this kind.

RUSH AT THE ROSE SALE

Great Throng Gathers Before Store at Hour Set For Opening.

A crowd estimated at fully 300 persons gathered in front of the R. H. Rose Mercantile Company's store before the opening hour of the company's big 15-day Abraham Lincoln sale which began at 9 o'clock. One woman collapsed and several others had to be assisted in getting out of the crowd when they were almost overcome by the heat and pressure of the crowding throng. One woman lost her purse containing about $10 in the crush; another lost her hat under foot, while two boys complained that they lost their caps.

It was nearly 11 o'clock before the crowd had dwindled to where the front doors of the store could be thrown open and left open. About half the crowd was admitted when the doors were thrown open at 9 o'clock, before the doorkeepers could force the doors shut against the pressing crowd. Fears were entertained for the safety of the plate glass windows.

The crowd was the result of extensive advertising of extraordinary bargains. The store was crowded throughout the day. Some buyers complained that they had brought only so much money to spend and could not buy all that they wanted. Many of the merchandise trays, which had been built for the occasion, were depleted of their goods and had to be refilled several times.

The sale is to continue 15 days.—Carthage Press

Threshing the Wheat

The roar of the thresher is heard in every direction. Some of the wheat is turning out good but most of it was hurt by the extreme hot and dry weather. Wheat that was not fertilized fell down badly in test. We are preparing to sell Swift's and V. C. Fertilizers again, but have not yet received the fall prices. We expect them soon.

Now is a good time to get you a new Buggy. Fernald and Harold, twin sons of Dan Morrison of Oronogo, were over this week and bought two new rubber-tired Hercules Buggies and two sets of single harness. They found the Hercules the best buggy to buy.
